

Kentucky Companies Producing PPE

Manufacturers' actions key in battle against COVID-19

This document highlights Kentucky manufacturers that have produced various types of PPE or provided services to combat the spread of the novel coronavirus. These businesses have made instrumental contributions to the fight against COVID-19, as many retooled their operations in an unprecedented fashion to fulfill the critical need for PPE. During this time of great uncertainty, these manufacturers have demonstrated exactly what #TeamKentucky is all about.

“Kentucky’s strength in manufacturing is second only to the strength and resilience of its people. We are incredibly proud of all the companies that stepped up to address the PPE needs of their neighbors, communities, state and nation during this crisis,” Gov. Andy Beshear said. “Many found innovative ways to do this through creative design and engineering, changing machinery, processes, formulas and supplies to ensure these PPE-related products would help save lives. As the state continues to fight COVID-19, I encourage businesses to source their PPE and related services from their fellow Kentucky facilities and companies listed here.”

NOTE: The Cabinet will continue updating this list. If your Kentucky facility is currently producing PPE, please email David Hamilton at dhamilton@ky.gov with your company name, contact information, and the type(s) of PPE being produced. Please also contact David if your company’s information is currently listed and needs updating.

Companies marked in red have been identified as potential sources for businesses currently seeking PPE or other services to help combat the spread of COVID-19.
